

Lesson Overview

---

What we'll cover today

1. Vocabulary:
categories of food;
names of foods
2. Speaking: foods you like; foods you want to eat
3. Grammar: would like
4. Role-play: using
would like in food-
related scenarios

Let's get started!

To warm up, briefly discuss the following questions... (1-2 minutes)

1. What is your favorite food?
2. What is your favorite meal to cook?
3. What is the most popular food in your country?

Vocabulary review

Review the meaning and pronunciation with your tutor

meat

chicken

beef

fish

vegetables

tomato

onion

pepper

dairy

cheese

milk

butter

starch

bread

noodles

rice

My Favorite Meal

A meal is the food you eat at breakfast, lunch, or dinner.

On the next slide, we'll read a short passage about the meal you see on the left - do you know what it's called? What foods do you see?

Amy's favorite meal

My favorite meal of the day is lunch. My favorite thing to eat for lunch is a cheesesteak sandwich. It has beef, onions, peppers, and bread. There is cheese on the meat and vegetables. It's delicious!

Now tell me about you!

- What is your favorite meal?
- What foods are in your favorite meal?

My favorite meal is _____.
It has _____ and _____ in it.

What about you?

- How often do you eat your favorite meal?

I eat my favorite meal...

- ☐ every day
- ☐ once a week
- ☐ once a month
- ☐ several times a year

What about you?

- Do you usually cook your favorite meal at home or eat it at a restaurant?

Remember! Use the simple present to talk about what you usually do.

I usually...

What about you?

- Do you eat meat? Why or why not?
- Do you know anyone who doesn't eat meat?

Well, I do eat meat because...
Well, I don't eat meat because...

What about you?

Grammar review: would like...

The phrase 'would like' is very useful to speak politely. We can use it to ask for something politely, as well as to express a wish or want in a polite manner.

Using would like to express a want or wish

Less polite: I want to go home right now!

More polite: I would like to go home now, if that's alright.

Using would like to ask for something

Less polite: Bring me a glass of water!

More polite: I would like a glass of water, please.

Grammar practice: would like to

Use would like to and the pictures on the right to describe what each person wants to do.

Example: Marcos would like to have rice with dinner.

Marcos	have _____ with dinner
Wei	serve _____ and _____ to his guests
Béatrice	put _____ on her salad
Kate	give her children _____ and _____

What foods would you like to try?

Take turns with your tutor to say one new food you want to try and one food you do not want to try.

You can say anything, but here are some examples to get started:
Frog legs, peanut butter, vegemite, cheesesteak sandwich...

I would like to try...

I would NOT like to try...

Inviting a guest for dinner

Imagine you are in this situation and role play with your tutor:

You made a new friend, and you would like to invite them to have dinner at your house tomorrow night. You need to know what food they like to eat so you can prepare a meal they will love.

Student (as host): ...

Tutor (as dinner guest): ...

Holiday foods

Imagine you are in this situation and role play with your tutor:

You are being interviewed by a travel magazine. The interviewer wants to know about popular holidays and holiday meals in your country.

Tutor (as interviewer): ...

Student (as interviewee): ...

Great job!

---

Let's review what we covered today.

Today you practiced:

- using new vocabulary to talk about foods and meals
- politely expressing what you want with would like
- inviting someone to dinner
- describing food from your country

Do you have any questions?

Extra practice: grammar

Find the errors in each sentence and correct them.

1. I would like eat bread for breakfast.
2. We would to have ice cream after dinner.
3. She would like to has more chicken.

Answers are on the next slide.

Extra grammar practice

Answers:

1. I would like ~~eat~~ bread for breakfast.
I would like to eat bread for breakfast.
1. We ~~would~~ to have ice cream after dinner.
We would like to have ice cream after dinner.
1. She would like ~~to has~~ more chicken.
She would like to have more chicken.